NON-DISCLOSURE AGREEMENT

AGREEMENT made this ____ day of _____ 20__

BETWEEN

(1) Land Transport Authority of Singapore (UEN T08GB0027D), a statutory board established under the Land Transport Authority of Singapore Act (Cap. 158A) and having an office at 1 Hampshire Road Singapore 219428 (LTA);

AND

(2) _____, a company incorporated in the Republic of Singapore with company registration number _____ and having its registered office at _____, Singapore (____).

BACKGROUND

This Agreement provides for the disclosure by each party (Disclosing Party) to the other party (Receiving Party) of information the Disclosing Party deems confidential.

THE PARTIES AGREE, with effect on and from _____:

1 In this Agreement:

Associate of a party means a body corporate that controls or is controlled by, or is under common control with, that party. For the purposes of this definition, "control" means the ability, whether direct or indirect, to direct or influence the management and policies of a party in any way.

"Confidential Information" includes all information which is disclosed by the Disclosing Party to the Requesting Party under this Agreement and which is being designated, labelled or marked as confidential or its equivalent, and information of a commercial, technical or financial nature which contains amongst other matters, trade secrets, know-how, show-how, patent and ancillary information and other proprietary or confidential information, regardless of form, format, media including without limitation written, oral, or reduced to tangible product and also includes those communicated or obtained through meetings, documents, correspondence or inspection of tangible items; and, for the purposes of this definition, references to "Disclosing Party" and "Receiving Party" shall include any Associate of that party.

Personnel of a party means that party's employees, agents, suppliers and advisers.

Purpose means the purpose for which the Confidential Information is being disclosed under this Agreement,that is to _____.

References to a party include that party's respective successors and permitted assigns.

2 Except as expressly provided otherwise in this Agreement, the Receiving Party shall keep confidential all Confidential Information received in connection with the Purpose, and shall:

(a) Only use the Confidential Information for the Purpose; and

(b) Not disclose to any other person or entity any Confidential Information, or that discussions are taking place between the parties concerning the Confidential Information or the Purpose.

3 The Receiving Party:

(a) May make the Confidential Information available to only those of its or its Associates' Personnel having a "need to know" in order to carry out the purposes of, or enable the Receiving Party to exercise its rights under, this Agreement; and

(b) Shall procure that each of the Personnel to whom Confidential Information is disclosed strictly comply with the terms of this Agreement as if the Personnel were each a party to this Agreement, and shall take all steps available to enforce such obligations of confidentiality.

4 The Receiving Party shall exercise the same degree of care to guard against disclosure or use of the Confidential Information as the Receiving Party employs with respect to its own Confidential Information but, in any event, not less than reasonable care.

5 The Receiving Party shall not be liable for the disclosure or use of Confidential Information if the same or with respect to the same:

(a) The Receiving Party creates (whether alone or jointly with any person) independently of the Disclosing Party's Confidential Information (provided the Receiving Party has evidence in writing that the information falls within this exception);

(b) Is public knowledge (otherwise than as a result of a breach of confidentiality by the Receiving Party or any person to whom the Receiving Party has disclosed the information);

(c) Is or has been lawfully disclosed to the Receiving Party by a third party without an obligation of confidentiality;

(d) Is independently developed by or on behalf of the Receiving Party without access to or use of the Confidential Information; or

(e) Is obtained without restriction as to further disclosure from a source other than the Disclosing Party through no breach of confidentiality by that source.

6 The obligations of confidentiality in this Agreement do not apply to the extent disclosure is required by law or order of a relevant court of law, the listing rules of a stock exchange, or direction of any government or statutory or regulatory authority with authority to regulate or direct either or both parties to this Agreement, provided that the Receiving Party shall:

(a) Give prompt notice of the requirement of disclosure to the Disclosing Party;

(b) To the extent lawful and practicable to do so prior to disclosure, consult with Disclosing Party as to the disclosure requirement with a view to agreeing the extent, content and timing of the disclosure;

(c) Restrict the disclosure to the information expressly required to be disclosed; and

(d) Stamp or otherwise identify as confidential all such information at the time of its disclosure.

7 On the earlier of termination of this Agreement or the Disclosing Party's request, all Confidential Information stored in any medium (including, without limitation, incorporated in computer software or held in electronic storage media), together with that part of any documents or materials containing Confidential Information, as is in possession or control of the Receiving Party shall, at the Disclosing Party's option, be returned to the Disclosing Party or destroyed by the Receiving Party, other than such copies as the Receiving Party may be required by law to retain. Within thirty (30) days' of the Disclosing Party's request, the Receiving Party shall certify in writing to the Disclosing Party that it has complied in full with its obligations under this clause.

8 The Receiving Party agrees that breach of this Agreement may cause irreparable damage to the Disclosing Party for which monetary damages are not a sufficient remedy, and the Disclosing Party shall be entitled to seek specific performance or injunctive relief to prohibit any breach or threatened breach of this Agreement.

9 The rights, powers and remedies of a party under this Agreement are cumulative with the rights, powers and remedies provided at law and in equity independently of this Agreement. A party may exercise a right, power or remedy at its discretion, and separately or concurrently with another right, power or remedy. A single or partial exercise of a right, power or remedy by a party does not prevent a further exercise of that or of any other right, power or remedy. The failure of a party at any time to insist on performance of any provision of this Agreement is not a waiver of its right at any later time to insist on performance of that or any other provision of this Agreement.

10 To the extent permitted by law:

(a) The Disclosing Party excludes all express and implied warranties in connection with the Confidential Information and, without limitation, the Disclosing Party does not warrant or represent that:

(i) The Disclosing Party will disclose any particular kind or quantity of information; or

(ii) The Confidential Information is complete, accurate, sufficient or suitable for the Receiving Party's purposes; and

(b) The Disclosing Party shall not have any liability or responsibility for any errors or omissions in, or any decision made by the Receiving Party in reliance on, the Confidential Information.

11 Each party acknowledges that:

(a) Nothing in this Agreement constitutes a relationship of joint venture, partnership, employer and employee, or principal and agent, and neither party has a right to bind the other party in contract or otherwise at law;

(b) Providing or receiving Confidential Information under this Agreement shall not constitute an offer, acceptance, or promise to enter into or amend any other contract; and

(c) The disclosure of Confidential Information shall not be construed as conferring on or granting to the Receiving Party any rights in any Confidential Information, other than the limited right to use the Confidential Information as permitted by this Agreement.

12 This Agreement may only be varied in writing signed by the parties.

13 Neither party may assign or transfer any rights arising out of this Agreement without the prior written consent of the other party.

14 This Agreement contains the entire agreement between the parties as to its subject matter and supersedes all prior communications and agreements in connection with that subject matter.

15 Part or all of a provision of this Agreement that is void, voidable, illegal or unenforceable shall be severed from this Agreement and the remainder of this Agreement shall not be affected.

16 This Agreement shall terminate _____ years from its effective date, or with immediate effect on notice in writing by either party.

17 On termination of this Agreement:

(a) The Receiving Party's right to use the Disclosing Party's Confidential Information will cease;

(b) The Receiving Party's obligation to keep confidential the Confidential Information shall survive without limit in time; and

(c) Any other parts of this Agreement that, by their nature, are intended to survive termination will do so.

Termination of this Agreement shall not affect a party's accrued rights or remedies.

18 This Agreement, and all discussions, correspondence and agreements between the parties arising from or in connection with the Purpose, shall be governed by the laws of Singapore. The parties submit to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the Singapore courts.
